

Exclusion Policy

St Philomena's School is committed to valuing diversity and to equality of opportunity. We aim to create and promote an environment in which pupils, parents and staff are treated fairly and with respect, and feel able to contribute to the best of their abilities.

Partnership with Parents

Parents working in partnership with the school to consistently reinforce the school's expectations is an important factor in every child's success. At St Philomena's School we will work in partnership with parents to ensure that expectations are clear and parents can reinforce them with their children. This includes ensuring that parents are kept informed about decisions made in response to a child's misbehaviour so that we can work together in the best interests of pupils to ensure expectations for behaviour are made clear.

The school is responsible for communicating to pupils, parents and staff its expectations of standards of conduct. A range of policies and procedures are in place to promote good behaviour and appropriate conduct. These include the School's Code of Conduct, Behaviour and Sanctions Policy and Anti-Bullying Policy.

Supporting Pupils to Succeed

We aim to include, not exclude, and we approach all challenging behaviour in a supportive and positive way. We recognise that such behaviour can sometimes be symptomatic of a real, deeper need for our support and understanding. All children can go through times of inappropriate behaviour, and we strive to never "give up" easily on a child as we recognise that each person has a unique contribution to make to school life and we want to support them to achieve this.

We look for patterns of challenging behaviour in pupils. Where patterns emerge we will systematically intervene, drawing up behaviour support plan with the child, parent and teacher. It is the class teacher's, parents' and the child's responsibility to ensure the support plan is followed.

No exclusion will be initiated without first attempting other strategies or, in the case of a serious single incident, a proper investigation.

Types of Exclusion

Internal Exclusion (where age-appropriate)

Internal exclusion is when a pupil is excluded from the rest of the school and must work away from their class for a fixed amount of time. This will be in a different classroom.

An internal exclusion is a discretionary measure, where a pupil's behaviour is escalating and more serious measures need to be taken but there are not yet grounds for an external/fixed-term exclusion. Typically, a child receiving a consequence of this level should be receiving additional support for their behaviour (behaviour support plan), intended to help them to avoid their behaviour escalating to a point where a fixed term exclusion is necessary.

Temporary/Fixed-Term Exclusion

A temporary/fixed term exclusion is when a child is excluded from school and must remain home for a fixed amount of time. This should be for the shortest time necessary to ensure minimal disruption to the child's education, whilst mindful of the seriousness of the breach of policy.

Permanent Exclusion

A permanent exclusion is when a child is permanently excluded from school and not allowed to return. This is a very serious decision and the Headteacher will consult with senior leaders and Chair of the Governing Body as soon as possible in such a case.

Reasons for Exclusion

The physical and emotional health of our children and staff is our primary concern, and we therefore accept, that in some serious situations, exclusion may be necessary.

The decision to exclude will usually follow a range of strategies or it will be in response to a very serious breach of school rules and policies or a disciplinary offence such as:

- Serious breach of the school's rules or policies.
- Serious risk of harm to the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school.
- Serious actual or threatened violence against another pupil or a member of staff.
- Persistent bullying.
- Persistent prejudice based harassment or hatred based acts.

The decision to exclude a pupil, either internally, for a fixed period or permanently is seen as a last resort by the school.

Any exclusion will be at the discretion of the Headteacher, usually in consultation with other members of the senior leadership team (particularly if they were involved in investigating the incident).

Persistent or Cumulative Problems

Internal and temporary/fixed-term exclusion may be used in response to a persistent poor behaviour which breaches school rules and policies.

In the most serious cases where the problem persists and there is no improvement a permanent exclusion may be necessary. These would be imposed only when the school had already offered and implemented a range of support and management strategies. These could be joint behaviour support plans with parents, child and school, target setting, home/school communication book etc.

The length of an exclusion will depend upon a number of factors, such as the severity of the incident, and the likely impact on the child's learning and ability to succeed on returning to school. Such decisions will be made in the best interests of the child, whilst also mindful of the need to maintain order and reinforce the rules and expectations of the school in a clear and consistent way.

Single Incident

Internal and temporary/fixed-term exclusion may be used in response to a very serious breach of school rules and policies or a disciplinary offence. In the most serious cases where the problem persists and there is no improvement a permanent exclusion may be necessary.

In such cases the Head teacher will investigate the incident and consider all evidence to support the allegation, taking account of the school's policies. The pupil will be encouraged to give their version of events and the Headteacher will check whether the incident may have been provoked, for example by bullying or racial harassment.

The Governing Body will be informed of all exclusions on a termly basis, and additional consultation may also take place about key incidents with the Chair of Governors.

The Decision to Exclude

If the Headteacher decides to exclude a pupil they will:

- Ensure that there is sufficient recorded evidence to support the decision.
- Explain the decision to the pupil if the pupil is in the state of mind to listen to the decision.
- Contact the parents, explain the decision and ask that the child be collected.
- Send a letter to the parents confirming the reasons for the exclusion, whether it is a permanent or temporary.
- The length of the exclusion and any terms or conditions agreed for the pupil's return.
- In cases of more than a day's exclusion, ensure that appropriate work is set and that arrangements are in place for it to be marked.
- Plan how to address the pupil's needs and integration back into their class on their return.
- Plan a meeting with parents and pupil on their return to be conducted by a suitable senior member of staff.

Safeguarding

An exclusion will not be enforced if doing so may put the safety of the pupil at risk. In cases where parents will not comply by, for example, refusing to collect the child, the child's welfare is the priority. In this situation, depending on the reason for exclusion, the school may consider an internal exclusion until the end of the day, implementing the original exclusion decision from the time the child is collected from school, or, in more severe circumstances the school may contact Social Services and/or the Police to safely take the pupil off site.

Re-Integration

After a fixed term exclusion the pupil and parent will be requested to attend a reintegration meeting with a senior member of staff. At this meeting the behaviour leading to exclusion will be discussed and targets will be set for improvement. Support around behaviour will also be discussed. The meeting will be recorded and a copy retained by the parent, child and school.

Work Set

When a pupil is excluded for more than one day, work should be set by the school within a reasonable time-scale and this should be returned to the school when the exclusion is over. If a child is excluded at the end of a school day, then it may not be possible to arrange for work to be set until the following morning.

Behaviour Outside School

Pupils' behaviour outside school, for example, on school trips, at sports events, is subject to the school's Behaviour Policy. Unacceptable behaviour in such circumstances will be dealt with as if it had taken place in school, and additionally this includes any serious breach of policy which could 'bring the school into disrepute'.

Pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabled Pupils

The school must take account of any special educational needs when considering whether or not to exclude a pupil. The Headteacher should ensure that reasonable steps, in line with the Disability Discrimination Act have been taken by the school to respond to a pupil's disability so the pupil is not treated less favourably for reasons related to the disability.

Managed Move

In cases where the Headteacher and parents agree that the progress of the pupil has been unsatisfactory, and the pupil is unwilling or unable to profit from the educational opportunities offered; or if a parents failure to engage in strategies implemented by the school are resulting in a continuing pattern of poor behaviour or lack of improvement in behaviour, the Headteacher may consult another independent school or the Local Authority and propose a managed move to another school. This is not an exclusion.

Removal From School for Other Reasons

The Headteacher may send a pupil home, after consultation with that pupil's parents and a health professional as appropriate, if the pupil poses an immediate and serious risk to the health and safety of other pupils and staff, for example because of a diagnosed illness such as a notifiable disease. This is not an exclusion and should be for the shortest possible time.

A pupil cannot be 'sent home' for other reasons, including poor behaviour.

Record Keeping

Incidents of seriously poor behaviour are recorded in an incident file maintained by the Headteacher so patterns can be identified. This record includes the pupil's name and year group, the nature and date of the incident and the sanction imposed, including exclusions.

Equal Opportunities

The Governing Body recognise that it is unlawful to take into account anyone's gender, colour, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, disability, religious beliefs, age, or sexual orientation. Full consideration has been given to this during the formulation of this policy as it is the governors' aim that no-one at St Philomena's School should suffer discrimination, either directly or indirectly, or harassment on any of these grounds.

Procedure for Appeal

If parents wish to appeal the decision to exclude, the matter will be referred to the Governing Body and handled through the school appeal procedure which follows the process set out in the Complaints Procedure.
